

The sampling theorem requires that the sampling rate must be at least twice the highest frequency present in the Aliasing occurs when the sampling rate falls below the Nyquist rate. The folded spectrum overlaps and the original